DARK HORSE SEEKS SURELY TO BE THE DEMOCRAT NOMINEE*Main Question Now Is Who Will Looch Up After McAtee and Smith Fade Out.*RALSTON BEING BOOMED*By United Press.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The arrival of the first delegates to the Democratic National Convention, which opens here next Tuesday, discloses the outstanding question of the moment is: "Who will be nominated after McAtee and Smith are disposed of?"

It develops that few of the early arrivals believe either man can win the nomination and all conversation hinges around "dark horses."

This feeling is expected to grow with the arrival Wednesday of George E. Brown of Illinois, Thomas Taggart of Indiana and Edward Moore of Ohio, who for the moment have reached no conclusion as to the nominee and each of whom has his first choice which is not the first choice of the others.

Taggart is for Senator Ralston and appears likely to play the same strategical game that supporters of Frank C. Lowlier played at Cleveland. Every effort will be made to prevent the formal nomination of Ralston but Indiana and others will proceed to vote for him just the same in the hope that his strength will grow as votes for Smith and McAtee begin to fall away from them. The course of McAtee's fortunes at the convention is still undecided.

McAtee will probably have in the neighborhood of 450 votes on the first ballot, by far the strongest support, with very few exceptions, that any candidate in a free-for-all convention, such as this one, ever had to start with.

Mayor Prohibits Fireworks Sale to Kids Before Fourth

Mayor Charles C. Mitchell has given strict orders to prevent the sale of fireworks to children previous to the third day of July. This is being done in an effort to prevent any premature celebration.

Home stores began the sale of fireworks a few days ago, the police say, and complaints have already been received from persons who have been molested by them. Merchants selling to children will be dealt with it was said, although parents may purchase them and hold them until the Fourth.

CHICAGO, June 16.—James Murray, former political boss, must stand trial as being a member of the bandit gang which held up a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul mail train taking $2,500,000 in cash and securities.

The former politician, accused of being the head of a Chicago beer ring, was one of the four men caught in a raid by detectives Saturday. In this raid J. H. Wayne, suffering from wounds received in the holdup, was captured and later confessed to participating in the spectacular mail holdup.

Murray gave the name of James Mahoney when arrested but later was identified by police as the politician whose activities have been under surveillance for some time.

A federal warrant has been issued for his arrest. Murray is said to own seven motor cars, four of which are of the same make as the ones used in the train robbery.

OF NELLIE PLANT
HELD FOR COURT

VANDERBILT, June 16.—Martin Adams was placed under $1,000 bail to appear before the September term of court in Unleasant to answer charges by Layton Blackman, an alleged side to High Consable Jerry Ritton in his numerous moonshining raids. Mr. Adams is charged with assault and battery, resisting an officer, interfering with an officer and disorderly conduct. Joseph Mongeluzo, shoemaker, went the bail.

The suit grew out of an affair at Nellie mines, June 10, when Blackman and another youth named Lloyd, together with Constable Ritton marched the home of Mrs. Sophia Hinkuk, at which time it is said they left the household articles in disorder. Martin, who is superintendent of the Nellie mines, it is alleged, attempted to push Blackman from the Hudak porch and at the same time called his name and threatened him.

Nothing was said of the affair until the three men, who have been conducting the alleged illegal raids, were placed under arrest and fined when arraigned before Burgess R. E. McLaughlin.

NEW IMPORTANCE IS GIVEN FLAG DAY BY ELKS' CELEBRATION

Large Crowd Gives Respectful and Appreciative Attention to Program.

PRIZES ARE DISTRIBUTED

The celebration of Flag Day by the Elks on Saturday night gave a new importance to this occasion in Connellsville. A large crowd of patriotic citizens gathered in front of the Elks' home on East Crawford avenue to give very respectful and appreciative attention to the various features of an interesting program which was presented from the balcony.

In a few well chosen words Harry Cook, chairman of the committee in charge, introduced Mayor C. C. Mitchell as presiding officer, in which capacity he served most creditably. Accepting the office Mayor Mitchell urged all citizens to make a more general display of "Old Glory" on next Flag Day.

During the rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the Firemen's Band every person stood uncovered, silent and respectfully at "attention." Other numbers were rendered by the band, all of which were heartily applauded. Miss Virginia Rull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rull, and A. R. Duncan of Dunbar, sang a number of popular airs, both responding to encores.

J. E. Wallace, secretary of the lodge, read the first-prize story on "The Flag" which had been written by Miss Eleanor Aaron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. May Aaron of Race street. The other first winners were: Second, Rose Carette, eighth grade, High School; third, Theodore Bloom, seventh grade, Cameron school; fourth, Mary Laughran, sixth grade, Parochial school; Louise Treher, sixth grade, Crawford school; J. W. Easley, Jr., fifth grade, Third Ward school, and Evelyn Miller, fifth grade, Olson school, South Connellsville. The first prize was $15, second and third, $7.50 each, and $5 in gold to the next four, or a total of $50. Miss Aaron, first prize winner, has turned her award over for use for charitable purposes in the city.

Captain E. J. McDaniel of Uniontown, representative of the General Assembly, who was to have been the speaker of the evening, found, at the last moment, that he would be unable to be present. The committee in charge urged upon John L. Gans to take Captain McDaniel's place. This did, making a short address in which he complimented the Elks for staging a fitting celebration of Flag Day and urging a more general observance of the day by citizens in general. He drew attention to the significance of the fact that at least one of the prize winning essay writers was a child of foreign-born parents, showing how residence here and the influences of our schools and other institutions, are making good Americans of all who come here with the avowed intention of seeking the protection "Old Glory" gives to those under its folds.

The concluding feature of the program was the distribution of awards by Mr. Cook to the winners who assembled for that purpose on the steps at the entrance to the Elks home.

Klansters Gather
By Thousands for Rally at Uniontown

More than 15,000 members of the Ku Klux Klan from various sections of West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania assembled Saturday night on Gray's Hill, just east of Uniontown and participated in a big picnic and naturalization exercises which continued up until midnight. Indefatigable with the big session, a "K. K. K." red fire design and a flaming cross were displayed.

The principal address of the naturalization exercises was made by Rev. Tabor of Dallas, Texas.

Thousands of visitors thronged the adjoining fields and side of the National park awaiting the display of the flaming cross which came at 10:30. The pike was jammed with automobiles and it was only through the excellent work of the Highway motor patrol that accidents were avoided and the bighway made passable.

The concluding feature of the program was the distribution of awards by Mr. Cook to the winners who assembled for that purpose on the steps at the entrance to the Elks home.

Bitner Man Throws Wife Down Stairs;
Her Death Follows

Two murders, in one of which a woman was killed, are being investigated by County Detective A. W. Bell and other county officials.

Friday night, Emory Soyles, aged 40 years, of Tower Hill No. 1, was hacked to death with a sharp instrument.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bogart, 46, of Bitner died in the Clinton Hospital as a result of being thrown down stairs. Her skull was fractured. She suffered from numerous other injuries.

Following an investigation into the death of Mrs. Bogart, who died in the hospital Sunday morning at 2:15 o'clock, authorities started a search for her husband, Stanley Bogart, who was later arrested and is being held in the Fayette county jail for investigation. He was committed early Sunday morning. It is claimed that Bogart, while intoxicated, threw his wife down the stairs at their home.

Soyles was found lying in a pool of blood in House #21 at Tower Hill, where he lives alone. Attention of employees at the plant was drawn to the house by a light early Saturday morning. An investigation by State Trooper Dodson disclosed that Soyles had been struck in the head several times by an instrument thought to have been a pick.

Kellogg's Bran is nature's relief from the terrors of constipation!

Never make light of constipation or any one of its symptoms—there is no telling what disease you may be heading toward! The one thing to do IMMEDIATELY—is to fight constipation—the best ditch you can get into is the mud of constipation! Not with foods you usually relish! Not with foods with a low bran content; they do not have the bran-build to do the work.

What you need, what will give you permanent relief is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Kellogg's is scientifically prepared to relieve constipation. It will relieve the chronic cases of constipation that cannot give you lasting relief! Not with foods with a low bran content; they do not have the bran-build to do the work.

But you must eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—each day! At least two tablespoonsfuls; in chronic cases this amount with each meal. And, eating Kellogg's Bran is a delight rather

HIGHER EDUCATION URGED ON BULLSKIN GRADUATING CLASS

Starting Address Delivered by Grover C. Washabaugh,
Former Township Boy.

LARGE AUDIENCE GATHERS

Having a definite goal in life and persistently striving to attain that goal, regardless of what reverses, what obstacles may be in the way was the advice given to the graduates of the school of Bullskin township at the annual commencement exercises Saturday evening at Paradise Church by Grover Cleveland Washabaugh, member of the faculty of Allegheny High School, Pittsburgh. The speaker a few years ago was an overgrown boy in the Paradise community, rather awkward, but filled with a zeal to get ahead—to get a college education. He was graduated last week from the University of Pittsburgh after an uphill struggle and was notified Saturday that he had been elected coach on the Allegheny High faculty, in connection with the work of teacher of chemistry.

The secret of success, Mr. Washabaugh told the graduates, is meeting every reverse with a determination to overcome—getting up every time you are knocked down—being assured by what others have accomplished under similar circumstances that you are bound to win in the end.

The speaker's simple story of his own early struggles to overcome his one most difficult branch in school—arithmetic—was in itself an inspiration. Often, he said, he worked until daylight on difficult problems and if the solution had not then been reached he sometimes stayed home from school until the work was accomplished. He paid a warm tribute to the preceding officer of the evening, George W. Gans, now a member of the school board, but at that time teacher of his home school. And a few steps away from the church where the exercises were held, The greatest inspiration of his life, Mr. Washabaugh said, came to him through the interest taken by Mr. Gans, who not only did all he could for him at school but visited him in his home and aided and encouraged him in his work.

It was a typical rural audience that filled the church to overflowing for the commencement and applauded the efforts of the students representing all parts of the township.

Warren Christian, secretary of the school board, presented the diplomas, and discussed taxation. Whereas a generation ago the school district was being run at an expense of $5,000 on wages of $25 to $35 a month the cost is now $16,000 a year, he said. The expense is justified, he added. Both he, and Austin Elrestone, another member of the board on the speaking program, said the corps of teachers last year was the best the township ever had, so far as they know.

Miss Gertrude Ketter and William Ketter, her brother, with saxophones, and Miss Violet McCloy, accompanist, all of Stauffer, provided music in addition to that presented by the graduates. Miss Ketter also gave several readings. Rev. H. H. Faust invoked a blessing and pronounced the benediction. The graduate part of the program was:

TAX REDUCTIONS UNDER NEW REVENUE BILL.

In addition to the reduction of 10 per cent in the amount of income tax for 1927 the repeal of various miscellaneous taxes has already become effective and will others will become effective on July 2, as the result of the enactment by Congress of the new revenue bill, which was reluctantly approved by President Coolidge because the measure was the best it was possible to secure at the recent session of Congress.

The tax on several articles was repealed the minute President Coolidge signed the bill at 4:02 o'clock on the afternoon of June 4. These include soda fountain beverages, candy, X-ray film or plates, binoculars and bowie knives, dirks, daggers, sword canes, scimitars, bows or metal knuckles, smoking stands, leverets and ivory boots and hats, hunting and shooting garments, riding habits, yachts and motor boats not designed for trade, fishing or national defense, and pleasure boats and canoes.

An other group of articles relieved from taxation on June 4 comes more nearly under the classification of necessities than the luxuries and sporting goods items just enumerated. In this group are carpets, rugs, blankets, valises, purses, pocketbooks, handbags, portable lamps and fans.

Thirty days following the approval of the bill, or on July 2, the tax on telegraph and telephone messages will cease to be effective; also the stamp tax of two cents for each $100 or part thereof on drafts and promissory notes. At the same time the tax on sales of produce on exchanges, boards of trade, etc., will be reduced from two cents to one cent on each $100 or part thereof. Alterations in the tax on automobiles will be effective on the same date.

The new per cent tax on jewelry, sale of leases of musical instruments, silver-plated flat tableware or articles used for religious purposes, and articles sold or leased for not less than $10, or watches for not more than $20, will not apply after July 2. The tax on playing cards is increased from eight to 10 cents per pack. With this exception to so-called "luxury taxes" are reduced to a minimum.

All individuals are affected by the new law, the reductions will be comparatively slight but in the aggregate they will form a very substantial sum, in fact less than would have been possible under the more equitable and comprehensive considerations of the original bill which Congress refused to pass.

In the closing hours of the recent session of the 69th Congress a resolution was adopted to submit to the states an amendment to the Constitution giving the federal government power to limit, regulate and prohibit the employment of persons under 18 years of age.

This action was taken because previously enacted Child Labor laws have been found in conflict with the constitutional provision under which police powers have been lodged in the several states. An amendment to the Constitution is necessary before a federal law can be enacted which will require all states to prohibit children from the greed and avarice of their employers who have not acceded an enlightened view of this question.

Many of the states already have laws regulating the employment of children, none more satisfactory in operation than the law of Pennsylvania. Several southern states have steadfastly resisted legislation on this subject, particularly those in which the cotton spinning industry has attained importance. When the association was before Congress Senator Reed of Missouri was leader of the southern contingent which opposed the adoption of the resolution. He made a heroic effort to rally the Democrats on the plan that a national law regulating child labor would be an unwarranted invasion of the rights of the states. This plan has however, lost much of the force it once had and Congress refused to approve the position of the Senator from Missouri.

By the action of Congress the states will have the opportunity of ratifying the proposed amendment. This will surely give Congress authority to enact a law which would not be necessary if the few states of the south could permit the child-labor evils to spread themselves upon them.

Reading from the newspaper cuts of Edward Herrick, it does not appear that he was chosen an ambassador of finance for care of France because of his many debts or the enormous and ready cash of his features.

THE best ham in the world—White Lily—are cured right here in Pittsburgh—from tender, corn-fed young porkers, less than one year old.

White Lily Hams cannot be sold for the price of cheap hams—the porkers from which they are taken are scientifically fattened; the cure is longer and not hurried; and the smoking is done thoroughly in fragrant hickory smoke. Still they often sell for the same as poor hams and never more than a cent or two per pound more. And think of the increased appreciation of your family.

You should buy the best ham and the best is White Lily. Tender, delicious and ALWAYS GOOD—can be fried without partitioning and ideal for picnics sandwiches and cold cuts. Your dealer can supply you with this, the very best ham in the world—try it.

Cokers Will Play Treser Club Here Friday; One of Leaders in Semi-pro Line

Visiting Team Has Following of 4,000 and 5,000 at All Its Games.

CONTEST AT 4 O'CLOCK

The Connellsville Independents, after a long absence from home will play here Friday afternoon. The Homewood Treasers, a team with one of the biggest semi-pro followings in the Pittsburgh district, will be the attraction on that day.

Connellsvillians may turn out in goodly numbers for this clash as it brings to Fayette Field a club with a reputation.

Then too, there will not have been a baseball game here in more than a week. The clash will start at 4 o'clock sharp.

Homewood has enjoyed a big season this year from various angles, enjoying big crowds and many victories. Recently the Cokers, playing at Homewood, lost a closely-fought contest.

It is another golden opportunity for fans to give their sporting blood a thrill and at the same time demonstrate the grand old national pastime is not entirely a dead issue here.

ADELAIDE DEFEATED AS LEISENRING CLUB CLOUTS BALL HARD

The fast Leisenring aggregation shakled up another victory Saturday afternoon when it walloped the strong Adelaide team at Adelaide by a score of 14 to 6. Owad and Prichard, twirling for Leisenring, had things easy as their mates swatted the ball at will, while Sherry was wild. He walked four and hit as many and made a wild pitch.

Owad carried off batting honors of the day, getting three hits, including a double, in four times at bat. Kershaw and Miller tied for honors for the losers. Riley and Flannery of the visitors had two hits apiece.

The Leisenring aggregation would like to meet some of the fast teams in the coke region and team managers are requested to write or communicate with Stanley Alexander, manager.

The Leislonians will hold a meeting this evening at their club rooms, where a captain will be elected and other baseball business transacted. Every member of the roster is requested to report on time.

OLIVER NO. 3 AGAIN

HANDS TRI-TOWN TEAM

DEFEAT; FREE HITTING

The Divada Independents met their third consecutive defeat at the hands of Oliver No. 3 Saturday afternoon at the Dickerson Run Y. M. C. A grounds by a score of 30 to 9. The battle proved to be a slugfest with the Oliver aggregation coming ahead with 14 safeties. The Divadaires swatted out nine. The Oliver team used three roundabouts and the losers used one roller hurler. Beginning like a "million dollars" by scoring one in the initial frame, the Divadaires marked three more in the second and one in the third. Meanwhile, Oliver tallied once in the second, two in the third and fourth and three in the fifth and two more in the sixth. A rally by the Divadaires netted four runs in the seventh, but was shy of one needed to tie the game.

Bob McKnight retired in the third inning when a foul tip split one of his fingers. Durbin was forced to retire from the mound after being injured while running towards first in the seventh inning.

PYRTOX

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are passed by the heart into the skin. That is what causes the greasy appearance, that muddiness, unwholesomeness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or remove. Tanlac is the foundation for a beautiful skin, simply. It is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood cells—and quickly the ruddy tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks; the complexion becomes rosy-like and immaculate! Try it. You will do it every time. A. J. Tucker, 129 Orchard street, Nanticoke, Pa., Mrs. Tucker is an active church worker and is beloved by all who know her.

In 1918, when I first used Tanlac, stomach trouble, nervousness, and severe sick headaches were making life miserable for me. I had suffered with those awful headaches for six years, and my nerves were just so nearly shattered that I could not get a good night's rest.

Tanlac ended my troubles so completely that they have never bothered me to this day. Since then I have taken Tanlac occasionally. In the spring, when everyone seems to get run-down, and I am now enjoying splendid health. I will gladly verify this statement to anyone personally.

Tanlac is for sale by all good drugstores. Accept no substitutes. Over 40 million bottles sold.

The Paramount

"EXCITEMENT"—In which Laura La Plante makes her screen debut, is the leading attraction today and tomorrow at the Paramount.

Mrs. La Plante plays the role of a society girl who is immeasurably bored with her routine of life and starts out to create a little adventure. The things that she creates afford not only a lot of thrills for herself, but for the audience which views the film recording her exploits. Darling horseback rides, motorcycle racing, airplane stunts that take one's breath away, and a great "battle royal" for the heroine's hand are included in this rippling farce comedy.

In a cast of several well known veteran comedians, Miss La Plante dominates the film, due to her beauty and charm in abundance. She does naturally, by virtue of several qualities. She is a natural comedienne. It is in the subtle touches that she excels, and her director, Robert Hill, has skillfully taken advantage of this. In a scene where she dons for a month's vacation from married life, there is some very delightful humor and some clever acting on the part of both the star and her good looking leading man.

The Soisson

"SLAVE OF DESIRE," a picturization of an immortal story by the great Honore de Balzac, opened today at the Soisson for a three day allusion. Carmel Myers has the part of the alluring countess Fedora. She is said to give the finest performance of her career in this picture. Rounding out the cast are Wally Van, veteran humorist of the films. Edward Connelly, character actor, who adds to his brilliant portrayals of the antiquarian of the Huckleberry Finn, Eulalie Jensen, who plays Mme. Gaudin, mother of the heroine, and a dozen other actors known for their ability to put over a character.

The story concerns Raphael, a Parisian poet, who, living in poverty, craves wealth, luxury and love. About to end his life, he is halted by an antiquarian who gives him a wonderful skin. This talisman enables Raphael to attain every desire but with every wish, no matter how trivial, the magic skin shrinks. The antiquarian has told Raphael that when the skin disappears entirely, his life will be ended away. Death approaches just as Raphael has won the love of his childhood sweetheart. He wishes for her safety, the first unselfish wish he has made, and this frees him from the curse.

The Orpheum

"BLACK OXEN"—The feature picture today, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Orpheum, features Corinne Griffith and Conway Tearle, supported by an unusual cast in the leading roles.

"Black Oxen" deals with rejuvenation, a subject little touched upon heretofore, but one that merits considerable thought and consideration, and, from the first title to the final coda-out there is a compelling something behind all of the action, that compels one's interest and enthusiastic admiration. Corinne Griffith, more beautiful than ever, plays the dual character of Madame Zelanny, a woman of 58 who appears 30, and of Mary Ogden, who in her younger years was the most charming member of New York's social set. The finish of Miss Griffith as an old woman, which recall the period just prior to her rejuvenation, prove a delightful contrast for the regal beauty that is here in the other scenes and her make-up is a remarkable achievement.

An Excellent Cast in

"The Law Forbids"

Conway Tearle, as the cynical newspaper columnist who falls in love with Zelanny but is deprived of the right to marry her when she decides that she is too old to marry him, gives a splendid performance.

Clara Bow, a newcomer to the screen, plays the part of Janet Oglethorpe, a flippant dapper, with much spic and understanding, and even in her most aggravating moments one feels a certain sympathy for her and glories in her change as the picture draws to a close.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday "The Arizona Express" will be shown.

To Whiten Skin

with Lemon

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring the clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also to soothe red or chapped hands and face. You must mix this remarkable bleach yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Advertisement.

TANLAC COMPLETELY ENDED TROUBLES

Says Mrs. Tucker, in Telling of Remarkable Recovery.

"If TANLAC will do for others what it has done for me, everyone should know about it," recently said Mrs. A. J. Tucker, 129 Orchard street, Nanticoke, Pa. Mrs. Tucker is an active church worker and is beloved by all who know her.

In 1918, when I first used Tanlac, stomach trouble, nervousness, and severe sick headaches were making life miserable for me. I had suffered with those awful headaches for six years, and my nerves were just so nearly shattered that I could not get a good night's rest.

Tanlac ended my troubles so completely that they have never bothered me to this day. Since then I have taken Tanlac occasionally.

At the time of my recovery, I had a

The Highgrader

by Will MacLeod Rainey
CONTRIBUTED BY GLENDALE HIGH CO.

"She told me . . . a little about you and her. She fair to have been over how she has been brought up. All her life it has been drilled into her that she must make a good match. It's a shameful thing. I hate it. But . . . what can a girl like Joyce do?"

"You justify her?"

"I understand her. A decision was forced on her. She had no time to choose. And—if you'll forgive my saying so—I think Joyce did wisely, since she is what she is."

"Of course she did," he answered grimly.

"Think of her. She doesn't love him, but she sacrifices her feelings to what she considers her duty."

"Shall we substitute ambitions for duty?"

"If you like. Her position is not a happy one, but she must smile and be gay and hide her heartache. You can afford to be generous, Mr. Kilmurry."

"I've been a fool," he admitted dryly.

"The fact that things have taken is the best possible one for me. But I'm not quite prepared to thank Miss Seddon for having awakened me."

"She saw that his vanity was strong more than his heart. His infatuation for her had been of the senses. The young woman shifted to another issue.

"You'll be careful tonight, won't you?"

"Very? Mr. Verlinden will have to wait for his come-backs to you."

"You mean . . . ? The question hung on her lips."

"Go on, neighbor."

"No. It was something I had no business to ask." The cheeks beneath the dusky eyes held each a patch of color burning through the tan.

"Then I'll say it for you. You were going to ask if they would really have enough gas with the goods. Wasn't that it?"

"Yes."

"I tell you frankly that they would."

"You mean that . . . you are a highgrader?"

"Yes."

"I . . . was afraid so."

His eyes would not release her. "You made excuses for Miss Seddon. Can you find any for me?"

"You are a man. You are strong. It is different with you."

"My sin is beyond the pale, I suppose?"

"How do I know? I'm only a girl. I've never seen anything of real life. Can I judge you?"

"Put on, da."

The troubled virginial sweetness of the girl went to his soul. She was his friend, and her heart ached because of his wrongdoing.

"I can't make myself think wrong is right."

"You think the profits from these mines should all go to Verlinden and his friends, that none should belong to the men who do the work?"

"I don't know . . . That doesn't seem fair . . . But I'm not wise enough to know how to make that right. The law is the law. I can't go back of that."

"Can't you? I can. Who enforces the law?" He asked it almost harshly.

"The people, I suppose."

"Nothing of the kind. The operators control the legislature and put through whatever bills they please. The whole machinery of government is owned by our masters. What can we do?"

"I don't know."

"Well, do I—except what I am doing. It is against the law, all right, but I try to see that the workers get some of the profits they earn."

"Would the operators—what would they do if they proved your guilty of highgrading?"

"It is hard to prove. One can't easily be identified."

He smiled down upon her with the easy recklessness that distinguished him. "I don't think it would have run quite to a prison sentence. The bushes of proof lie on the accuser. Because I am in possession of rich ones it does not follow that I did not come by it legitimately. One can't be sworn to like this—brac. I may have shipped this in from South Africa, so far as the law knows. Bleyer knows that. I figure he would have played his hand in the Goldmines way."

"And how would that be?"

"He would forget the law, too, just as we've done on our side. A pose of men who have fallen on me maybe after I had got out of town, and they would have been masked so that I could not swear to them."

"Why, this is highway robbery!"

He laughed. "We don't use such big words out here, mama. Just a hold-up—a perfectly legitimate one, from Bleyer's viewpoint—and it would have set us broke."

"Break?"

He nodded. "Dead broke! I've got twenty thousand dollars invested in that—every cent I've got in the world."

"You paid that to the miners for it?"

"We pay fifty per cent of what is coming to the men as soon as we reach the mine. The other fifty after we get the regular returns. That wagon load of ore was—unless I guess my guess is wrong—about fifteen thousand dollars."

"Dear me. So much money! She could buy a house, a note of, or even out of her voice. And have you it in a safety deposit vault?"

"His cool case took her off quietly. He was willing to put his dollar in his loyalty, and it was his to back his judgment in one wild throw."

Feeling tired, dull, spiritless all day-long—losing weight and strength—having your friends notice the draw, haggard expression on your face, the dark circles under your eyes—these and a hundred other little signs indicate your need of Dreco.

Dreco is natural. It builds you up before you know it! You'll feel better the first week. Your cheeks will fill out, your eyes brighten—there'll be a new uprightness to your step. You'll gain in weight and strength, and, like Mrs. Margaret Dressler, Trotter, Pa., near Connellsville, will say, "I've lost 10 pounds in weight. Feel great. Thanks to Dreco."

Dreco is for sale at all druggists and in being specially introduced here by Connellsville Drug Co., and in Scotland by Hoffman's Drug Store.

Lace Hats Are Smart

Look for All-Around Wear

Lace has been borrowed by military designers from the afternoon and evening frocks of the season. Now the lace patterned fabric is made into charming hats to wear at the luncheon or bobby party, notes a fashion correspondent in the Indianapolis Star. Evening hats for restaurant wear are also shown with lace as their trimming. And many of these hats are finished of all-over lace.

One lovely model recently noted boasted a crown of fine lace-bordered petals. The brim of the hat was made of crepe color lace stretched over supports of fine wire. Dramatic in effect, the back of the lace flared upward and gradually angled toward the sides with a line of extended petals.

Black lace is very popular in millinery. It is much, for example, more heavily used afternoon bonnets, reminiscent of the cloche, with a lace crown of black satin fabric covered in black silk with bands of off-white ribbon. The successive rows on the crown side, a la Marchesa, Spanish style, attempt to follow the neckline edge to form a lace well, is continued over the crown and chin on one side. The lace cloche off white, however, has longer hair on either side. A French lace, Spanish style, appears like a pointed tulip to again its style. It is now used in colors to match the hair which it is employed. A large lace and damask pattern, one of which are both finished in petticoat lace, has a band of wide ribbons around the crown and decreases of the ends at one side. Green-colored lace, a band of Chinese lace, is to be worn with white lace. And there are such lovely color combinations as blue and cream, grey and cream, sea green and cream, and black with the alternating ribbon of black lace.
